

CAHIERS D'ETUDES SUR LA MEDITERRANEE ORIENTALE
ET LE MONDE TURCO-IRANIEN

CEMOTI

Problems of Democracy and Ethnicity in Turkey; Secularism and Religion in Iran; Democratization and Emerging Market Economies in Central Asia; the Eurasian Question in Turkey and in Russia; the Future of East Turkistan (Sinkiang); the Ottoman Heritage in the Balkans; Security in the Eastern Mediterranean; Pipeline Politics around Caspian Sea; Natural Gas Politics in Turkmenistan and Kazakhstan; the Azeri-Armenian Conflict; the Illicit Drug Trade - all these issues dominate today's headlines.

But where does a reader turn to for timely, accurate analyses of these and other issues emanating from Turkey, Cyprus, Iran, the Caucasus and Central Asia?

Often what little available literature that exists in these regions and issues tends to be too general, too dated, or too specialized.

To meet the urgent need for accurate, up-to-date analyses of events in Eurasia, the French Association of the Eastern Mediterranean and the Turko-Persian World (AFEMOTI, Paris) has been publishing Cahiers d'études sur la Méditerranée orientale et le monde turco-iranien (CEMOTI) bi-annually for the last 18 years.

In fact, CEMOTI has proven so popular that of the 35 issues (on average containing over three-hundred pages each) published to date, stocks of the first 24 have already run out due to overwhelming demand!

Supported by the Centre of International Researches and Studies (CERI, Centre d'études et de recherches internationales) part of the French Foundation of Political Science (FNSP, Fondation nationale des sciences politiques), the National Centre of Scientific Research (CNRS, Centre national de la recherche scientifique), and the Book National Centre (Centre national du livre), CEMOTI provides incisive, in-depth coverage by leading experts on Eurasia - from Sarajevo to Kashgar.

One of Europe's leading publications in this field, CEMOTI has established itself as an invaluable source of information and analysis. CEMOTI's wide spectrum of readers varies from academics and policy-makers, to journalists, students, and businessmen. Indeed, everyone who seeks to understand the changes affecting this vast, resource-rich region.

CEMOTI's contributors are drawn worldwide from a core of regional specialists in academic, government, and business circles. CEMOTI often invites resident specialists from within the region to share their expertise to give its readers a true inside look at the region.

Articles in English from recent issues have included: "Citizenship and Individuation in Turkey: the Triumph of Will over Reason" (Ayse Kadioglu); "Informal Financial Institutions in the Iranian Bazaar" (Maryam Ghadassi); "Internal Colonialism and the Uyghur Nationality: Chinese Nationalism and Its Subaltern Subjects" (Dru C. Gladney); "Arabs and Persians: Beyond the Geopolitics of the Gulf) (Fred Halliday); "Business Notions of Democracy: The Turkish Experience in the 1990s" (Hakan Yilmaz); "A Triangular Relationship: Turkish Israeli Cooperation and its Implications for Greece" (Amikam Nachmani); "Humanitarian Action and Conflict in the Southern Caucasus: The Cases of Abkhazia (Georgia) and Nagorno-Karabakh (Azerbaijan)" (S.Neil Macfarlane); "Humanitarian Aid in Iraqi Kurdistan" (Michel Leezenberg); "Kazakh Intellectuals, Identity, and Collective Memory: Echoes of Recent Debates" (Azade-Ayse Rorlich); "The October 1998 Crisis: The Change of Heart of Turkish Foreign Policy towards Syria" (O.Z. Oktav Alantar).

There are many more recent articles in French. Recent topics have included: "Political parties in Pakistan," "The Afghan and Iranian diasporas," "Albania," "Democracy and Muslim societies".

Two pieces from the last issues are now also online!

The Editorial Board of CEMOTI includes Marcel Bazin (University of Reims), Mohammad-Reza Djalili (The Graduate Institute of International Studies, Geneva), Ali Kazancigil (UNESCO), Pierre-Yves Pechoux (Univ. Toulouse), Jean Radvanyi (INALCO, Paris), Anne de Tinguy (CERI/CNRS), Catherine de Wenden (CERI/CNRS), Stéphane Yerasimos (University of Paris VIII).

Among the members of the Scientific Council are Mohammed Arkoun (Sorbonne), Françoise Aubin (CNRS-CERI), Louis Bazin (Institut de France), Pierre Centlivres (Univ. of Neuchâtel), Pierre Chuvin (director of the IFEA in Istanbul), Metin Heper (Bilkent University, Ankara), Jacob M. Landau (University of Jerusalem), Rémy Leveau (Institute of Political Studies, Paris), Andrew Mango (SOAS, London), Jean-Paul Roux (CNRS), Lucette Valensi (Insitutut d'études de l'Islam et des sociétés du monde musulman). Correspondents include Amine Ait-Chaalal (Louvain), Ladan Boroumand (Washington), Ilir Gedeshi (Tirana), Robert Cutler (Montréal), Stéphane Lathion (Geneva), Jean-François Mayer (Fribourg), H.B.Paksoy (Columbus, OH), Isabelle Rigoni (Warvick), and more.

The journal is edited by Dr Semih Vaner of the Centre d'études et de recherches internationales (CERI, Fondation nationale des sciences politiques) in Paris.

The themes of forthcoming issues will include "Turkey and European Union," "Muslims of Europe," "Russia and Central Asia." In addition, individual articles will focus on instability in the south Caucasus, the Taleban influence in Central Asia, and Local Elites and Foreign Corporations in Iran and Azerbaijan.

Sign up now to get the highest quality coverage on Eurasia! Become one of the many subscribers, who consider CEMOTI to be essential reading!

Two-year subscription: $70 for individuals, $90 for institutions.

To subscribe, please print & fill out the form below, and return it with a cheque made payable to AFEMOTI.

Attn: Cyril Robin
CEMOTI
56, rue Jacob
75006 Paris
France

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY/STATE/ZIP _____

CHEQUE ORDER
(PAYABLE TO AFEMOTI)

For more information, contact:

C. Robin / CEMOTI

FAX (33-1) 58 71 70 90

<http://www.ceri-sciences-po.org/publica/cemoti/presente.htm>